Attempted murder probe is launched

BY SCOTT KIRK
editor@onemk.co.uk

POLICE have launched an attempted murder investigation after a woman was stabbed in the throat and arm in a city centre car park on Monday morning.

Officers are now trying to trace Farai Kambarami, 25, as he may have information that could help with their enquiries.

The 34-year-old woman was driving a black Vauxhall Insignia in Saxon Gate East, CMK, at 8.10am when a black Honda CR-V, registration number BT57 OFE, collided with her vehicle.

The victim pulled into the car park next to Milton Keynes Council's Civic Offices but was followed by the Honda.

A man got out of the car and attacked the woman with what is thought to have been a knife. He then stole her keys and mobile phone before fleeing the scene in his car.

The victim, who was helped by a member of the public, was taken to Milton Keynes University Hospital for treatment and at the time of going to press was in a stable condition.

Investigating officer Det Insp Jason Simpson, from Milton Keynes Force CID, said: "We do not believe Farai Kambarami to be a risk to the wider public, but I would ask anyone who sees him not to approach him and contact police."

"I would also like to hear from anyone who saw the collision near the Civic Offices, or who saw the two vehicles prior to the collision."

"We believe that the offender drove in the car towards the London or Surrey area and I would like to hear from anyone who saw the black

Investigation: Police are looking for Farai Kambarami, inset, following the attack in the CMK car park yesterday morning

Honda car matching this description after yesterday morning.

"This incident happened in a very public place and there would have been people arriving at work or visiting Central Milton Keynes around this time of morning."

LPA Commander for Milton

Keynes, Supt Gez Chiariello, added: "Members of the public may well be distressed to hear the news of this upsetting incident."

"I would like to reassure anyone who has any concerns that this was an isolated incident and we believe the victim is known to the offender."

"A member of the public assisted the victim after she was attacked and I would like to thank her for her actions. She is an example of the kindness and courage that exists in our community, which is important to remember in the aftermath of this incident."

Dealer jumped out of window in bid to escape

A DRUG dealer has been jailed for more than four years for intent to supply drugs.

Matthew Nash, 21, of Jubilee Terrace, Stony Stratford, was sentenced at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday for multiple counts of possession with intent to supply heroin and cocaine.

He received a total of four years and seven months in jail.

The offences are in relation to an incident in Snowberry Close, Stacey Bushes, on February 29, 2016.

Nash attempted to escape from a property that officers has attended by jumping from a rear window to be met by police dog Diesel and his handler PC Cook, who detained him.

A significant amount of heroin and cocaine was discovered on Nash and in the nearby vicinity, which he had discarded.

In a separate incident on June 14, he was arrested in Ramsoms Avenue, Conniburrow, for possessing Class A drugs concealed within himself while on police bail.

Investigating officer Det Con Mark Burgess, of Milton Keynes Local CID, said: "Drugs have a devastating impact on the lives of people in our communities and I am pleased that Nash has received a significant custodial sentence."

"We work tirelessly to pursue those who are supplying drugs in the area."

Hammer comes down for couple

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

A RETIRED couple are set to take centre stage on a new episode of BBC One show Homes Under the Hammer.

Hazel and Steve Sanderson are scheduled to be on our screens tomorrow after buying their home in Russell Street, Stony Stratford, at an auction.

As long-term fans of the show, the couple did not have to think twice when they were asked to take part in June last year.

Hazel said: "As it is one of our favourite shows, we immediately said yes. I have been a big fan of the show ever since it started."

"Lucy Alexander was absolutely lovely! The crew came in and filmed down the High Street on a beautiful sunny day – they adored Stony.

"They filmed all of the rooms in varying states of disrepair and interviewed us. They then came back in April when the house was more 'TV-ready'."

The couple bought the property for £202,000 when it was in a 'real mess'.

The house had been empty for a year and damp was forming and the wallpaper was peeling off.

Hazel admits it has been 14 months of 'non-stop' work, but says the couple are pleased with their finished home and their new community.

She added: "Everything has gone really well, it has turned out better than expected."

"Stony is a really lovely town and the community spirit is fantastic – we feel so lucky we managed to get this house."

Hazel, Steve and their improved home will be on our screens from 10am.

Driver killed in crash near roundabout

A DRIVER was killed in a crash near a roundabout on Friday.

At about 12.30pm, police were called to H3 Monks Way by Stacey Bushes. A 36-year-old man from Northamptonshire died after his black Vauxhall Astra left the road and struck a metal fence.

A police spokesman said: "I would like to thank the public who attended the injured man and called emergency services. I am also grateful for the public's understanding as the road was closed for four hours, to allow for a detailed forensic collision investigation."

Paedophile jailed in landmark case

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A MAN has been jailed for 16 years for conspiring to commit sexual offences against children as young as three years old and possessing and distributing indecent images.

Stuart Goodman, 37, of Williams Close, Hanslope, was sentenced at Aylesbury Crown Court on Thursday.

He had pleaded guilty at earlier hearings to 17 offences, including conspiracy to cause a child aged under 13 years to engage in sexual activity abroad, conspiracy to rape a child under 13 years abroad and distribution of indecent child photographs.

Behind bars: Stuart Goodman

Adrian Foster, Chief Crown Prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service, said: "This case involved Stuart Goodman using an internet webcam sex site to direct others abroad to commit depraved acts of child sexual abuse."

Goodman received an extended sentence of 16 years' imprisonment for conspiracy to rape a child abroad with sentences for the other offences to run concurrently.

The offences took place between April 1-30, 2011 against girls aged between three and six years old, believed to be from the Philippines.

Investigating officer Det Con Kathryn Combstock, from Milton Keynes Local Area CID, said: "This is a landmark case - His Honour Judge Sheridan said he believed it was the first conviction of its kind for the offence of conspiracy to rape a child abroad. It [the sentence] reflects the depravity of the crimes."

Children's charity: Goodman is 'repugnant'

CHILD protection charity the NSPCC has branded Goodman as 'repugnant' following his sentencing.

A spokesman said: "Goodman had a repugnant interest in child abuse which stretched to directing others to commit vile acts on young girls.

"His utter disregard for the impact his devious actions would have on the victims is inexcusable.

"He exploited children and forced them to endure the most horrendous forms of abuse.

"Goodman is someone who needs more than just locking up. In prison he must be placed on an effective treatment programme to ensure he doesn't pose a risk to children when he is released."

Club-goer's jaw fractured in assault

A MAN suffered a fractured jaw and required surgery after a 'vicious' assault.

At about 3am on Sunday, the victim, 22, approached three men in the smoking area outside Wonderland at Xscape.

One of the men punched him in the face, causing him to fall to the floor.

The victim's jaw was fractured and he was taken to Milton Keynes University Hospital, where he underwent surgery and had a plate fitted.

Investigating officer PC Keith Fetherston, based at MK Police Station, said: "This was a vicious attack in which the victim sustained a serious injury.

"I would appeal to any witnesses to the assault to come forward, in confidence, and speak to officers."

Anyone with any information can contact PC Fetherston on 101.

Garden should be tidied

I AM writing in response to the article in last week's OneMK titled 'Upset at ban of memorial items'.

Fourteen years ago we chose to have our son's ashes put at the Garden of Remembrance at Crownhill Crematorium and paid for a stone and plaque because it was a beautiful, peaceful and tidy area. A place where we could go and sit and spend time with our son.

However, I have to say over the years it has come to look nothing more than a dumping ground with dead flowers, large dead floral tributes that have been left for other family members, lights with leaking batteries, wet and mouldy teddies etc – not the place that we originally saw.

I am not saying that the person spoken to in the article leaves their area in this way but so many do.

I personally, and other family members, have spoken about this to the office staff at the crematorium and they have been apologetic and helpful.

Also the person in the article states they have not been 'notified or consulted', this is in fact not the case as I know personally a couple of years ago we received a survey to complete on this matter when things were really starting to look terrible in that area.

Also a lot of people pay every few years a substantial amount to keep their stones/plaques in this area and expect it to be kept in a good state.

My own father recently has had to clear an area behind our son's stone/plaque as it was so over-run – he obviously did not interfere with any other area.

Personally I was relieved when I went to the garden on Monday – my own son's anniversary – to see that tidying up had already been started and signs around giving notification of what was happening. The signs are all around.

I wouldn't normally respond to an article that I see in the paper but this is one I feel very strongly about. I appreciate that people wish to leave memorial items but if they removed them when they were rotten, mouldy or dead then it wouldn't have come to this.

I think what Milton Keynes Council is planning is in accordance with what people require from a 'peaceful place where people can come and reflect'.

I feel for residents

HAVING read your article in last week's paper entitled 'We're not safe here' about people's fears in Fishermead, I can only agree with them.

I moved to Milton Keynes as a little girl and had scores of friends on Fishermead.

I often crossed the bridge from my estate to play over there and never did we have any trouble.

Now if I drive through I can see the decline and undesirable-looking people hanging around on the corners.

I feel sorry for the residents who have lived there for years (including the parents of some of my friends) and are now being intimidated.

Something needs to be done asap.

Take up the reins

WITH regards your article 'Chance to own racehorse share' on August 10.

It's good to see Lee Bearman looking to raise the profile of flat racing in Milton Keynes, especially when Towcester Racecourse has cut its jumps racing back so drastically.

I wish him luck in making things happen.

I wonder if he sees the initiative as part of an equestrian renaissance in Milton Keynes?

Coming up to our 50th anniversary, we do not seem to value the integrated equestrian estate bequeathed to us by the city's founding fathers.

Our horse trails and paddocks are used, but not to the extent that they could be, if these facilities were pro-actively marketed.

His column written exclusively for OneMK

PARLIAMENT'S summer recess gives me the opportunity to attend events that Westminster duties can preclude.

As a member of the Transport Select Committee, I have had the opportunity to look at rail projects old and new. I was invited to visit the rebuilt Flying Scotsman at the National Rail Museum and see its importance for the tourist economy.

With steam trains being a passion of mine, the opportunity to be on the foot plate of such an iconic engine was an absolute delight!

Before the House rose for recess, I led a debate on the future development of MK, based on the Milton Keynes Futures 2050 Commission report.

I'm delighted that Milton Keynes Council has unanimously voted to use the report to help shape our city's future.

One of the key visions is the development of the Oxford - Milton Keynes-Cambridge arc, something I have been promoting for years.

A glimpse of the future?: Above and bottom, The Draft House opened the Old Street in London in May and connections to the community were used in the design. There are similar plans for MK's bar

'Cosmic' pub will replace chain bar

Notice: Wetherspoon pub The Secklow Hundred by The Hub closed its doors to the public on Thursday

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

THE Draft House has announced it will open its 10th pub – the first outside London – in Milton Keynes in October.

Former Wetherspoon bar The Secklow Hundred closed on Thursday – the second to be closed in the city by the pub chain this year.

And Draft House founder Charlie McVeigh has negotiated the purchase of the site in Midsummer Boulevard at the entrance to The Hub in CMK.

He said: "Our concept for the site is inspired by the environment, history and contemporary culture of Milton Keynes – with the original plans for the new town aligning Midsummer Boulevard to the summer solstice.

"We want to embrace the cosmic personality of Milton Keynes as the 'The little Los Angeles in Buckinghamshire' by bringing LA sized structures into the pub through projecting billboards, super-sized neons and airport-style floor graphics.

"MK is home to 500 corporate HQs and the longest shopping centre in the country but lacks a great craft beer pub. We aim to fill that gap with our trademark good food, great beer and real people."

The new pub will also mark an extension of the group's tank beer relationship with Pilsner Urquell and the site will feature large copper tanks full of unpasteurised brewery-fresh lager brought over weekly by tanker from Plzen, Czech Republic.

On the food front, pub-goers can expect tried and tested Draft House classics, such as foot-long scratchings, char-pit ribs and the mexi-cali salad.

READERS REACT TO THE NEWS

Suzanne Andrews: "Sounds wonderful that there will be a replacement here. It's the people that make a place not what it looks like so as long as it's not London prices people will go there!"

Anthony David Douglas: "Here we go – London gentrification coming to Milton Keynes. We'll be overrun by hipsters selling bowls of cereal for £8 next."

Helen Wynnfrith Wilson: "Not a place you can spend a lazy two or three hours catching up with friends like you could in The Secklow Hundred. Does not look a very comfortable environment, I won't be visiting it."

Lisa Robson: "This is fab, I've been to the one in Old Street! Bye bye sticky carpets!"

Karl Downey: "Gross, it looks too hipster."

Anthony Barber: Unpasteurised Pilsner Urquell! We'll be in there more than when we worked there!

Upset after play park vandalism

Unhappy: Pauline Dempster next to where the bench was situated before it was set alight by vandals

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A COMMUNITY has been left devastated after vandals destroyed a bench in a play area on a city estate.

The bench at the space off Lanthorne Close in Neath Hill, which was paid for by residents in the area, was set alight overnight between August 15 and 16.

One child was so upset by the vandalism they drew a sad face in chalk on the rubber play surface and wrote: "It's really sad that someone set fire to our lovely bench."

Bianca Titchmarsh, who regularly visits her grandmother on the estate and uses the play area, said: "To see this written by a young child while walking my dogs broke my heart."

"Yes it may be a bench but to everyone of Neath Hill it was somewhere to sit and relax while watching the kids or dogs run around."

"It was somewhere to have a natter and take five minutes to relax."

"It just shouldn't have happened and I'm sad about it."

Bianca's grandmother Pauline Dempster, 82, added:

"It's just not right - it's vandalism."

Milton Keynes Council, which is responsible for the play area, said it does not have a budget to replace the bench.

However, councillor Margaret Burke, whose ward includes Neath Hill, invited residents to get in touch with her about the issue as she is may be able to use some of the small budget she is given for community projects every year.

Fellow ward member Alex Walker has said he will work with other councillors to see if any fundraising activities could be organised.

Company appointed to build multi-storey ENGINEERING consultancy Rolton Group has been appointed to work on a 1,400 space multi-storey car park at the centre:mk.

Located at the John Lewis side of the mall, the new car park will be over four levels with a pay on departure system.

When it was passed by Milton Keynes Council's development control committee in January 2015, Cllr Andrew Geary said he hoped it would 'never be built' as he felt it was a missed opportunity. However, he voted for it to go ahead as he feared a legal challenge if the plans weren't approved.

Protest over memorial plans

A PROTEST is being staged against controversial plans to renovate the children's Garden of Remembrance at Crownhill Crematorium.

As OneMK previously reported, Milton Keynes Council's planned improvements will lead to the permanent removal of memorial items.

The protest is scheduled to begin at 11am on September 5 outside the Civic Offices.

Protest organiser Ricky Oates said: "We need to make this protest as visible as possible and make the council rethink these awful plans and stop them before this happens."

Turtles snapped bathing by lake

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

AMERICAN turtles deemed an 'invasive species' have been pictured at Furzton Lake by eagle-eyed readers.

Martin Kincaid, biodiversity officer for The Parks Trust, said: "Periodically people let these red-eared terrapins out on to lakes where they succumb to our cold climate."

"They are a major problem for our native wildlife. To release them into the wild is an offence."

A memorial is held for George

A MEMORIAL took place for George Lanigan as people in Tinkers Bridge said goodbye to him.

George went missing on June 6, sparking a huge manhunt, but it is believed a body found in Newton Longville on July 16 was his.

A planter was put in place to remember George, who was a keen gardener, at the event on Sunday.

'We can't talk of them or us'

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

FEARS are mounting a gang problem on an estate could fracture a community along racial lines.

As OneMK previously reported, dozens of Fishermead residents met at the Trinity Centre on August 9 to raise concerns over a gang of Somali origin terrorising their streets.

Festus Akinbusoye, senior parliamentary assistant to Mark Lancaster, MP for Milton Keynes North, attended the meeting and was 'shocked' by the level of crime residents were reporting.

He added: "I genuinely do fear for their safety - this is not something we want happening in MK. I heard this language of them and us being spoken and we can't have this divide developing."

Mr Akinbusoye is planning to assemble local leaders - including representatives of the Somali community - at a meeting in September to discuss the scale of the problem on the estate.

He added: "We want to hear from as many local stakeholders as possible."

Fishermead residents are urged to report any suspicious incidents to police on 101. They can also contact the local policing team by emailing MKSouthCluster@thamesvalley.pnn.police.uk

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes &

Leighton Buzzard areas and manager Stephen Moon agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

Turn your dreams into reality with a beautiful hand-made Renaissance bedroom

Stunning bespoke fitted bedrooms. Professional, affordable and individual true craftsmanship is timeless bedroom ■ study ■ kitchen ■ lounge ■ office

We interviewed a local business celebrating 25 years of trading and this is what she said...

Renaissance Interiors - 25 years and counting

Running a business since 1991 has certainly had its ups and downs.

We started the business in what they all said was a recession... but we figured that was exactly the right time - there could only be one way to go and that was up!

When I managed to get a contract that was really too big for us to handle, we took it on anyway. In 18 months we went from zero - £180,000.00 turnover with just 4 people.

If you think the banks are hard today, you should have tried getting finance back in 1992, so in 1993 we found two really kind investors who took a shine to our little company and invested and tried to teach me the ways of business. Lucky for us I listened.

The basic two rules were:

- Do exactly what you say you will
- Cash is king.

We have kept these simple rules throughout our 25 years of trading.

Over the last 25 years we have transformed customers' homes/lifestyles with beautiful storage solutions. We have been lucky enough to be the main suppliers of a national builder for their top end luxury wardrobes for the last 15 years - and I am proud to say in all that time only three snags.

Our business has been built on customer recommendations and I am often asked what makes us so special.

- The main reason is that we care. And while many home improvement companies are not really in control of their own destiny, awaiting supplies that are always late, not having conscientious staff to do a job properly, we at Renaissance are fussy about our customer quality and care. Some things do go wrong but it's how you put it right that is very important.
- Our product, being a full carcass construction will stand the test of time, recently I went to see a customer locally in need of a new kitchen, she was one of the first bedrooms we installed in 1991, we were both a tad older of course but the bedroom is still looking great after 25 years and she is still happy with it, her new kitchen looked beautiful too.

We are now fulfilling contracts for the children of the customers we once served, which is a great testimonial for our product.

Your customers are not your friends - though some do become so - but you do feel very much a part of the family when working very closely with them in their homes. There are many I keep in contact which makes my job one of the best.

Michael and I would love to thank all of our customers for the last 25 years and look forward to the next years of trading in Wellingborough and around Northamptonshire.

Drug dealer was found with taser

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A DRUG dealer who was arrested on April Fool's Day after police found him sleeping on a sofa next to bags of cocaine and a taser has been jailed.

Lee Sopp, of Coffee Hall, who had failed to turn up to a court appearance two weeks earlier, was arrested when police found him at an address in Leighton Buzzard.

When the officers searched a Gucci bag beside him, they discovered 19 deal bags of cocaine and an illegal taser that was disguised as a torch.

On Wednesday Sopp appeared for sentencing at Luton Crown Court where Judge Michael Kay QC was told the 21-year-old had been dealing drugs on the streets in Leighton Buzzard.

He had armed himself with the taser for his own protection.

He admitted possessing a class A drug with intent to supply and possessing a disguised firearm.

Prosecutor Kevin West told

Caged: Lee Sopp of Coffee Hall

the court how Sopp should have appeared before magistrates in Luton in March of this year after being arrested for possessing a bladed article.

On the morning of April 1 this year, officers armed with a warrant for his arrest found 19 bags containing 7.53 grams of cocaine and £160 in cash.

But Sopp found himself in even deeper trouble when the officers searched through the bags and found the taser that, on first inspection, appeared to be a harmless torch.

The court was told Sopp had a previous conviction for drugs offences.

In October of last year he had appeared at Luton Crown Court for possessing eight bags of cannabis with intent to supply, for which he had received six months in a young offender institute.

Rupert Wheeler, defending, said that on his release, Sopp had gone back to street dealing because he had got himself into debt with dealers and saw it as a way of repaying what he owed.

He added Sopp was now remorseful and determined that when he is eventually released from jail he will have nothing to do with criminal associates in Leighton Buzzard and instead will live in Milton Keynes where he has family.

"Despite his young age he is almost entrenched in criminal behaviour," said the barrister.

He was sentenced to five years in jail and the judge ordered the forfeiture of the drugs, the taser and the money.

You could make a difference to a child or young person's life

Milton Keynes Council is keen to recruit people who can offer a safe and loving home for a child/young person in care. We are especially seeking carers for teenagers. As a Milton Keynes Council foster carer you will be provided with a generous allowance plus support and training.

Our foster carers come from all walks of life and across a diverse community. They offer children and young people a nurturing, caring home environment where they can begin to thrive and reach their full potential.

It's a challenging role; one which will always ask for a great deal of input and support from you. However in providing a home to a child/young person who is unable to live with their family for a period of time you will be creating a wonderful experience for everyone involved.

How much do you need to save for retirement?

I met with one of my clients John this week for our regular annual review. John is age 50, self-employed and has been contributing to his pension and ISA for some years.

John has always wanted to stop working at age 55 or at least stop working as hard as he currently is. He wants to do this as his parents both died young in their retirement without really being able to enjoy their money. John doesn't want the same to happen to him and has lots of exciting plans once he stops working such as travelling and helping his children start a business.

As John now has only 5 years left until his 'retirement' date he asked me "how much extra money do I need to save over the next 5 years to ensure I can stop working at 55?"

In order to answer this, we needed to understand John's current position in terms of his wealth e.g. pensions, savings and investments. Next we needed to know what John's spending budget was in retirement, in the early years and the later years. We also factored in inflation and future taxes. Finally, we needed to make some assumptions as to the type of investment returns John could expect given his attitude to risk.

Carl Roberts
Director and Chartered Financial Planner

We have a system called Money Forecast that helps us project the result of all of these calculations so it is as accurate as it can be given the assumptions used.

In John's case we worked out he needed to save an extra £26,000 per year over the next 5 years in order to be able to live the life he wanted in 'retirement'. We then put together an investment plan that would help get there and made sure we factored in some 'what if' scenarios. These included: What if he was unable to work until 55? What if he wanted to stop working earlier? What if he spent/less or more in retirement?

John was delighted with the results and is now well on track to achieving his dream.

Do you know how much you need to save? Do you have a plan? And if you have a plan have you stress tested it with 'what if' scenarios? As Benjamin Franklin apparently once said, "If you fail to plan, you are planning to fail!"

Woman in dressing gown assaults teen

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

POLICE are still appealing for information after an 18-year-old was attacked and had his bike stolen.

The victim was cycling in Beadlemead, Netherfield, when he noticed a group of people standing in the street.

Two men from the group stood in front of the teen and one of them spoke to him before grabbing his bike, causing him to fall off.

He was then punched and kicked and fell to the floor, where the offenders continued kicking him.

A woman helped the victim up but then started punching him in the head.

The victim's bike was stolen and he suffered minor facial injuries but did not require hospital treatment.

The first offender was a white man, 25-30 years old, 5ft 4ins to 5ft 6ins, slim, with short dark hair and a tattoo to the right side of his face. He was wearing a light grey hooded top and dark jeans.

The female offender was white, aged 25-20 years old, 5ft 2ins to 5ft 5ins, of medium build, with dark curly shoulder-length hair. She was wearing a beige dressing gown.

Anyone with information about the incident, which happened at 10.50pm on Friday, August 12, can call 101.

'He didn't have to die this way'

SISTERS of an elderly patient have spoken of their 'harrowing' experience watching their brother die following a major operation.

Bedford Hospital has admitted medical negligence contributed to the death of John Evans, 69, from Bletchley.

At an inquest in April, senior coroner Tom Osborne concluded that there had been a 'failure to recognise' the seriousness of Mr Evan's condition after major heart surgery on April 1, 2015.

Mr Evans had emergency surgery on April 15 when the nature of his post-operation complications were identified but he died five days later.

And sisters Sylvia Pitkin and Ginny Goff have bravely spoken out about John's experience.

Sylvia said: "He went through with the operation knowing the risks because he wanted his best chance of survival.

"To watch a member of your family die in front of you is absolutely harrowing.

"To know that he didn't have to die this way, it's pretty unforgivable.

The night before the inquest the hospital sent John's relatives a letter admitting 'he would not have died when he did' had he received 'reasonable' care.

A hospital spokesman said: "We do not comment on individual patients. We have a duty to ensure we maintain patient confidentiality at all times."

Magic: Singer Stacey Solomon will be playing Fairy Bowbells in Dick Whittington and she hopes to deliver a spellbinding performance

Former X Factor singer to sprinkle panto fairy dust

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

A FORMER X Factor singer is the latest star to be confirmed for this year's pantomime at Milton Keynes Theatre.

Stacey Solomon – a popular finalist from the 2009 series of the ITV1 show – joins the cast of Dick Whittington as Fairy Bowbells, alongside Eastenders star Samantha Womack.

Speaking about the show, which is scheduled to run from December 8 to January 15, Stacey said: "I'm so excited to be making my panto debut.

"I'm a mum of two young children and I know how much they enjoy watching panto so I can't wait to be part of something that can help make some really special memories!

"It's a magical time of the year and the perfect time for families to come together and have a really good laugh, regardless of your age.

"And I've got to admit that I'm looking forward to being a fairy too. I can't wait to see my wand!"

Stacey became a household name after wowing the judges and finishing in third position on The X Factor behind Olly Murs and eventual winner Joe McElderry.

She also performed in the X Factor 2009 Live Tour.

Since then Stacey has enjoyed UK Singles Chart success with her Christmas hit Driving Home for Christmas and has continued to perform live as often as her schedule allows.

As well as music, she has carved out a career in TV which has included winning I'm a Celebrity...Get Me Out of Here!

She has also made appearances on shows including All Star Family Fortunes, Celebrity Mastermind, Never Mind the Buzzcocks and The Jump.

Stacey has also appeared as a presenter and judge on shows including Sky Living's The Love Machine and ITV2's Top Dog Model.

This year Stacey has become a regular reporter on Channel 5's The Saturday Show and panellist on ITV's Loose Women.

'It's just like being in Indiana Jones!'

WILLEN Hospice is holding its first Vietnam Trek Adventure next year and is inviting people to take part and raise much needed funds for the end-of-life care it provides.

Lexi Quinton from Different Travel, the company supporting the experience, has done the trek and shares her experiences with OneMK.

Tell us about the adventure?

The trek is an incredible opportunity to get into the heart of Vietnamese culture and tradition.

Trekking from village to village through jungles, rice fields and small Vietnamese communities makes this trek diverse and exciting.

What can trekkers expect to see?

Trekking through the jungle is just like being transported to a scene from Indiana Jones!

As you trek along winding trails you will pass gushing waterfalls, small streams, tropical flowers and interesting birds and animals; it's mysterious, wild and very beautiful.

The vast rice fields are so vibrant and green and it's quite awe-inspiring when you realise that every single rice plant was planted by hand.

Tell us about the welcome at the villages?

I was overwhelmed by the generosity and kindness of people.

Our hosts for the night made us feel at home.

Small children would come running out to greet us trying out their English (and giggling when we tried out our Vietnamese); it was a very humbling experience.

What was the biggest challenge you faced?

The climate – the heat and humidity. It was very manageable though.

My favourite trekking accessory the 'neck cooling Cobber' was invaluable.

Find out more about the trek, taking place from September 30 to October 8, 2017, at an open evening at the hospice on Thursday, September 8 at 7pm.

Incredible: Lexi Quinton has taken part in the Vietnam Trek Adventure

Greg to go on Strictly

GREG Rutherford will appear on Strictly Come Dancing, it was announced on Monday.

The Woburn Sands long jumper is fresh from winning a bronze medal at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

To celebrate his achievement, Revolucion de Cuba in the Theatre District measured out his medal-winning distance of 8.29m in shot glasses. It took 182 of them to do it.

'It was heartbreaking'

BY SUSIE VERRILL

editor@onemk.co.uk

'I NEVER thought in my career I'd have been disappointed with a bronze medal but I'm gutted.'

That was the statement that got my eyes swimming, writes his partner Susie Verrill.

I try to get our son Milo to express how much he's missing his dad while he opts to wave really interesting sticks he's found in the garden towards the screen when I FaceTime Greg, or he picks his nose as his gaze flickers from In The Night Garden.

What the majority of us see as running and jumping is actually a series of very specific fundamentals. Long jumpers have a precise number of strides, particular movements in the air; it's not just a case of legging it down a runway.

I'd paid for a company to set up a big screen in the garden and my friends helped me decorate it with Union Jacks and naff Rio carnival bunting before the rest of the guests arrived.

For anyone who didn't watch, the clash was fierce and Greg will have really liked that; he said from the outset that if he did win, he didn't want to do so easily.

His disappointment with the result was obvious and heartbreaking to watch, I'll admit that it made me cry to sit through his interview.

Greg's due home this week and I can't wait to see him and nor can Milo. We're intending on taking our first family holiday and he might let himself eat some carbs and drink some whiskey; I'm just thankful we don't have to limit ourselves to Nandos – again.

Susie was writing for Standard Issue magazine. Read the full article on onemk.co.uk

Nadiya opening is icing on cake

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

GREAT British Bake Off winner and new city resident Nadiya Hussain will officially launch the refurbished Oak Court at intu on Saturday.

Nadiya shot to fame and won the hearts of the nation with her victory on the popular BBC One show last year.

And now she will take centre stage for a question and answer session hosted by MKFM presenter Chris Gregg from 1pm, where the public will be invited to ask about her rise to stardom followed by a meet and greet.

The free event will officially launch the newly-refurbished Oak Court, which is now open for local businesses, performers and artists to use and the public to enjoy.

Nadiya, pictured below, said: "Milton Keynes is now my home so I'm delighted to be working with intu Milton Keynes and its team, who share my passion for being a part of the local community."

"intu is at the very heart of a growing and prosperous city, which I'm thrilled to have moved to and I can't wait to meet more people from the area on Saturday."

The court, which was home to MK's infamous oak tree, has been refurbished as part of plans to improve the shopping centre, with a proposed redevelopment set to introduce new restaurants, a boutique cinema and shops not available elsewhere in the city.

Shelley Peppard, general manager at intu Milton Keynes, said: "We're incredibly excited Nadiya will be launching our new Oak Court area by holding her first major engagement since moving to the city."

She added: "She is a wonderful new ambassador for Milton Keynes and we really look forward to welcoming her to the centre on Saturday and beyond."

"This event is a great chance for people in Milton Keynes to find out more about the real Nadiya and grab a quick selfie of course."

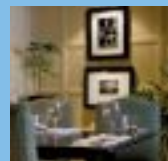

Members of the public are being invited to send in their questions to Nadiya on the intu Milton Keynes Facebook page and the best questions will be asked.

Visit facebook.com/intuMiltonKeynes or tweet the question using the hashtag #AskNadiya.

After her appearance at Oak Court, the baker will be signing copies of her debut children's book – Nadiya's Bake Me a Story – at Waterstones in the centre from 3pm.

THE nervous wait came to an end for students when they finally opened their A-level results on Thursday.

OneMK visited The Hazeley Academy, Milton Keynes College and St Paul's Catholic School on the day to capture the celebrations.

Many students in MK netted the top A*-C grades with several securing places at the country's top universities.

Councillor Zoe Nolan, lead member for children and families at Milton Keynes Council, said: "Congratulations to all those students who have received results."

"They mark the end of years of hard work and commitment by the students and those who support them in school and at home.

"This is an exciting time for young people as they now look to take the next steps in their education, training or work."

"Whatever their results were I wish them all the very best for their future."

ONE ambitious Milton Keynes College student has set himself the sky-high target of training to become a pilot.

Charlie Dimmock, 18, from Kingsmead, achieved a B in business, C in law and a D in English. He is planning to teach English for a year to children in Osaka, Japan, from January, before considering how best to realise his airborne dreams.

He said: "For a few years now it is the only job I have really wanted to do. But before that, I am looking forward to experiencing a new culture."

IT WAS an extra special day for one family as all three children collected their A-level results.

Known as The Hazeley Academy triplets, Jessica, Harry and Ethan Ball, pictured left to right, from Oxley Park were all delighted with their grades.

Jessica said: "We have all been here for seven years and it is going to be weird leaving."

Harry and Ethan are looking into commercial flight training and policing respectively, while Jessica is planning on studying for a degree in music.

Campaign for more blood donors in MK

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

MORE black and Asian people are being urged to give blood as NHS Blood and Transplant launches its Missing Type campaign.

The aim is to encourage more people to donate the red stuff, with organisations such as Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service dropping the letters 'a', 'b' and 'o' from its title to represent the main blood groups. Last year, 4,546 gave blood at least once in Milton Keynes, while 8.8 per cent of donors were aged 17-24 and 50.6 per cent were 45 or over.

Mike Stredder, director of blood donation at NHS Blood and Transplant, the service that collects, tests and processes blood for hospitals across England, said: "Blood donation is an amazing gift and transfusions save lives in Milton Keynes every day."

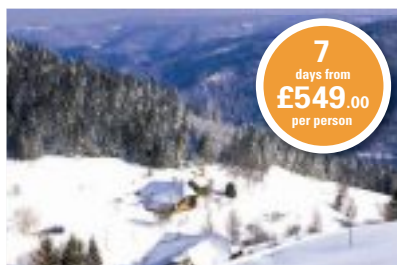

"More black and south

Asian blood donors are needed because people from a similar ethnic background are more likely to have more closely matched blood, which patients require for the best possible clinical outcome."

Navrita Atwal, chief executive of the MK Equality Council, said: "I would encourage all communities to give blood and if they feel there are any barriers we'd like to hear from them to see how we can make it easier."

'A night to remember'

Celebration: It's all smiles for the winners at the first Milton Keynes Digital Awards held in 2015. This year's presentation evening will take place in Central Milton Keynes in October when the finalists listed opposite will be in the running for a prize. To buy tickets visit mkdigitalawards.co.uk/tickets

THE finalists of the Milton Keynes Digital Awards 2016 (MKDA16) have been announced.

The remaining contenders in each of the categories are now in with a chance of clinching gold, silver and bronze prizes at the winners' ceremony at the Jurys Inn on October 13.

Tickets are on sale now for the awards, which this year have seen an increase in overall entries of more than 100 per cent.

MKDA organisers say 2016's event, supported by OneMK, will be a 'night to remember', with entertainment and networking alongside the ceremony.

Robin Bailey, chairman of the MKDA16 judging panel, said: "MKDA16 has proven to be immensely popular among the business community in the borough and we've added plenty to this year's presentation evening, which is going to be a thrilling celebration, I cannot wait."

Enjoy a Sunny Afternoon (or evening) with The Kinks

THE story of The Kinks' rise to fame will be told at Milton Keynes Theatre next week.

The multi-award winning show (four Olivier Awards, including Best New Musical and Outstanding Achievement in Music for Ray Davies) includes some of The Kinks' best loved songs including 'You Really Got Me', 'Waterloo Sunset and Lola.

With music, lyrics and original story by Ray Davies, the musical looks at the early life of Ray and the brit-pop mod band that exploded onto the 60s music scene with a raw energetic new sound that rocked a nation.

Set against the back-drop of a Britain caught mid-swing between the conservative 50s and riotous 60s, this production explores the euphoric highs and agonising lows of one of Britain's most iconic bands and the irresistible music that influenced generations.

So just as just your thoughts are drifting away from all the summer fun, Sunny Afternoon will make your spirits soar and take you back to those lazy days.

■ Lazing was the last thing happening on a cloudy morning in a rehearsal studio in East London when MK LIFE spoke to the cast about the show. See inside for more.

There are also loads of exciting new activities and attractions this summer, including the pathway through the new tortoise habitat to meet Albert, Flo, Ken, Harold and Gordon – the charismatic Aldabra tortoises.

Catch the brilliant new 3D mini-movie 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea in Sea Lion Cove and the under five's bouncy castle in the leisure area – Tiny Tots Safari Trail – has been replaced in time for some summer fun.

THE Comedy Club at Wonderworld in Xscape returns on Saturday with three top names.

Mandy Knight is a true dame of British stand up and was the first female comedian to compere that bastion of old-school stand up The Comedy Store.

Steve Day, pictured, is a truly unique comedian. He is warm, witty and engaging while dealing with the dilemmas of being a deaf man in a hearing world and will have you in raptures of laughter.

Colin Cole is literally one of the biggest names in comedy in Australia – not only is he 6' 7", he is also known for his hugely dynamic performance. Big, bold and dominating every punch-line Cole produces is a gem.

Doors open at 7pm and the show starts at 8.30pm.

Tickets cost from £10 at www.thecomedyclub.co.uk

urbanroots

The event is aimed at bringing traditional African and western styles together in a fun day for all the family from noon until 10pm.

The festival features an open mic tent and a kid's creative corner where the little ones can get crafty.

For adults, there will be a host of pop up street ventures and bars, as well as a shisha tent.

Tickets cost £15 for adults and £5 for under 16s. Under 10s go free.

fortiesweekend

PUT on your old kit bag and visit Milton Keynes Museum on September 3 and 4 as the history hub hosts its popular annual Forties Weekend.

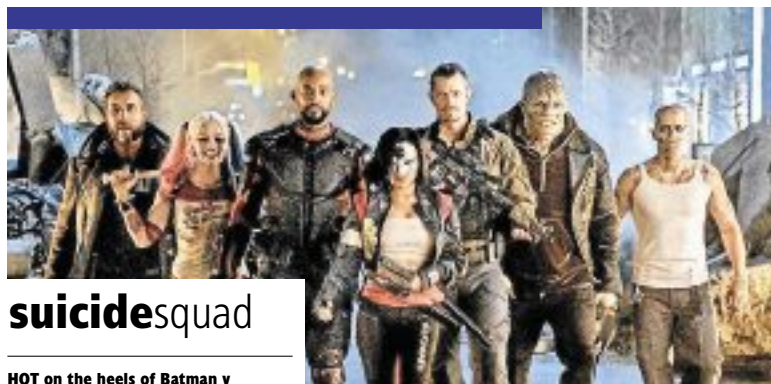

It's a brilliant celebration of the sights, sounds and flavours from a period dominated by the Second World War and this year it's bigger, brasher and better than ever!

Miss Lola Lamour and Singing Major James Cooper Watson will be performing popular songs from the era, Neil Storey will be recounting stories from the Battle of Britain and car lovers will be in luck with a parade of military and domestic vehicles from the 1940s.

Ticket prices – which also give you free entry for the following 12 months – are priced at £9 for adults, £6 for children and £7 for the retired and unwaged.

For more information on the weekend and all of the events taking place, visit www.mkmuseum.org.uk.

suicidesquad

HOT on the heels of Batman v Superman: Dawn of Justice, DC Comics has let the franchise's villains out to play in Suicide Squad.

Dr Amanda Waller launches a top-secret military programme to defend the planet in the event 'the next Superman' is a terrorist.

Deadshot (Will Smith) and Harley Quinn (Margot Robbie) are joined by lesser-known criminals such as Captain Boomerang and Killer Croc to protect humanity from The Enchantress (Cara Delevingne).

Comic book fans will be delighted to see some of the franchises' peripheral characters given screen time and there is enough carnage to entertain and disguise a very loose plot.

Smith delivers a typical charismatic performance as the elite hit man, but it is rising star Robbie who steals the show as the psychologically twisted girlfriend of The Joker.

But it is only the back stories of Deadshot and Harley Quinn that are fully explored and, like Batman v Superman, many characters suffer in the squeeze to fit it all in one movie. For example, Katana is introduced as a warrior whose blade claims the souls of her victims. But after that, nothing more is developed on the superheroine.

And much of the criticism of the movie has centered on the lack of screen time for The Joker, played as a lovesick gangster by Jared Leto.

Suicide Squad is an enjoyable but flawed movie which never quite matches up to its lofty ambitions.

THE Parks Trust's biodiversity office MARTIN KINCAID tells MK LIFE readers where they might spot grasshoppers and bush-crickets in Milton Keynes

IN LATE summer, our meadows and grasslands hum with the songs of our grasshoppers and bush-crickets.

These charming insects have matured late this year as a result of the wet spring and summer and we will probably hear them right through until October.

We have at least 10 species in Milton Keynes. The common field grasshopper can be found in almost any dry, grassy place – including in your garden.

It is a fairly large grasshopper measuring up to 2cm long and generally brown or grey-brown in colour. Like all species of grasshopper, the male 'sings' to attract females by rubbing its hind wings on its back legs.

Bush-crickets are generally larger than the grasshoppers, with stouter bodies and much longer antennae. There are two small, delicate green species – the oak bush-cricket and the speckled bush-cricket.

The Oak is often attracted to domestic lights and may enter your house if you have mature trees nearby.

In the last 20 years, two other species have colonised Milton Keynes. These are the roesel's bush-cricket – with its loud, buzzing song that recalls a fishing line being reeled in – and the long winged conehead, a much more shy creature. If you are very lucky, you may even encounter the great green bush-cricket. These giants are much more common along the south coast, but occasionally appear in local parks.

BACK by popular demand, Dinosaur Zoo returns to The Stables from tomorrow.

Now with the mighty Tyrannosaurus Rex on the stage, Dinosaur Zoo brings these awesome prehistoric creatures to life as you've never seen them before.

From cute baby dinos to teeth-gnashing giants, marvel and interact with extraordinary life-like dinosaurs in this imaginative and hilarious live show. But watch out, not all of these ravenous reptiles are as tame as they seem.

The show, which is suitable for those over the age of three, runs until Saturday. For times and to book tickets visit www.stables.org

THE cast of Sunny Afternoon, the hit musical based on the story and songs of The Kinks, is working flat out prior to the show coming to Milton Keynes Theatre. JUDY RILEY dropped into rehearsals for a chat with them.

Has Ray Davies been around while you've been working on Sunny Afternoon?

Garmon Rhys (Pete Quaife, bass player): Ray was involved quite a lot in the casting. How much of a final say he had, I don't know, those conversations go on behind closed doors. But in the final round of auditions when I walked into the room I was aware of the back with the steely glare...

Did you know much about the band or The Kinks' songs before you got involved with the show?

Mark Newnham (Dave Davies): I pretty much knew all the songs. Kinks' songs are a soundtrack to so many films and TV shows. I can remember listening to a cassette tape on a loop, as children they were filtering into our brains.

Ryan O'Donnell (Ray Davies): I didn't know much about the band as such but it's amazing how many of the songs you know. You say, oh, I know this one – and I know this one and it's just great song after great song after great song.

What is your favourite Kinks' number?

Garmon: My favourite is You Really Got Me. It's the first time you see the band on stage as a four piece playing together.

er. You get a real buzz when you hear those first chords.

Ryan: I've fallen in and out of love with different ones as we've gone along. The first one I really started to love was Set Me Free. It's a really sexy tune and it has all the quite trippy vocal harmonies and guitar riffs. But then Days is heartbreaking every time you do it and the reaction from the audience is great every time.

You're not a tribute band but you have to play the songs as The Kinks. How difficult is it to reproduce the sound?

Garmon: The sound we have in this show is more like what it would have been like if The Kinks were recording those numbers today. It's a much tighter and better produced sound; not quite as rough and ready, which maybe loses some of its charm but for a show it's got to be that way to sustain it for that length of time.

So what is it about Sunny Afternoon that has made it such a hit in the West End?

Ryan: Well of course it's the amazing music but it digs up the dirt of the Kinks' story. So many people say 'I never knew that about The Kinks!'

Mark: Ray and Dave were like chalk and cheese. Dave's a real gift of a part to play. He was only just 16 when it all started and there are no wrong choices for him; he's still in 'playing' mode.

Andy Gallo (Mick Avory, drummer): There's a lot of drama between Dave and the other three not least at the end of Act 1 when Mick ends up hitting him over the head with a drum pedal. Mick went on the run for a few days because he thought he'd killed Dave.

Mark: Then a few weeks later they went back into the rehearsal room and neither Dave nor Mick said anything!

■ Sunny Afternoon runs from Tuesday until Saturday, September 3 and tickets, starting from £15, can be booked at atgtickets.com

DANIEL Radcliffe has suggested he'd be up for starring in the new play Harry Potter and the Cursed Child...but sadly only if the timing is right.

In a recent interview he said: "You never want to close a door on anything, especially something that's been so good to me...but I do think, at the moment, I'm definitely not at a stage where I would feel comfortable going back to it."

"Who knows if in 10, 20 years I would feel differently about that and I think I've got a little while before I'm sort of age-appropriate for this Harry."

House with original model looks

CHRISTIE Brinkley became one of the world's first supermodels after she was spotted in a French post office in 1973 by an American fashion photographer.

Famously married to singer Billy Joel for several years, she appeared in his music videos and was also a regular on the front of the world's fashion and sports magazines. She later took up acting, most notably appearing in the 1983 movie National Lampoon's Vacation but also more recently in New York and London productions of Chicago. She has also written several best-selling fitness and health books.

But for many Americans, her heyday was during the 1980s when she became famous for her power hair, mega-watt smile and colourful bikinis.

Life has not always gone to plan for Brinkley, though. The 62-year-old has been married four times and she endured a messy divorce during the late 1990s. She also recently announced she had finished her relationship with singer John Mellencamp.

Much of Brinkley's modelling millions were cannily invested in property and she is said to own more than a dozen homes in The Hamptons, the luxury area to the east of New York.

And her current home there is now for sale. Tower Hill, which includes an impressive observation tower built in 1891, is a three-storey house with 20 acres of gardens and forest as well as a tennis court and a heated swimming pool.

Christine is moving to one of her smaller homes in the area as two of her children are now living in New York City and her youngest will be attending college there.

The estate is for sale with Enzo Morabito of Douglas Elliman. Priced at $29.5 million.

Visit TopTenRealEstateDeals.com for more details.

An eye for a fashionable look

HAVE you ever wondered how young women are picked out of the crowd to become the next Kate Moss or Naomi Campbell?

Although it sounds improbable in today's social media world, the work of modelling talent scouts continues apace. And until recently one of the most famous was Fiona Ellis.

Starting out as a traditional scout, Ellis carved out a lucrative career on TV including several 'catwalk' series for CNN and also employed innovative ways to find the next generation of catwalk models.

Now concentrating on her interiors and clothing design work, Fiona was until recently famous as the person who discovered supermodel Erin O'Connor, although Ellis has also worked with Claudia Schiffer, Helena Christensen and Elizabeth Hurley.

But it's clearly time to move on. Ellis's home in Ascot, Berkshire is now up for sale. The property, which she moved into six years ago, has been remodelled in her somewhat unusual style and includes a leopard-print clad toilet and ceilings covered crocodile embossed wallpaper.

It's a flat on Spring Grove in Ascot and is being sold via Savills Sunningdale (01344 626 162) for £1.1 million.

For that you get two en-suite bathrooms, two reception rooms, study, a kitchen/diner and access to a garage, private terrace and communal gardens.

Joe's slice of England in Colorado

Singer Joe Cocker died in 2014 after a long and successful career during which he both achieved numerous hit singles and albums on both sides of the Atlantic and was famed for his gravelly voice and unusual on-stage performances.

At the time of his death the former gas engineer turned superstar was lauded as the 'greatest blues singer' the UK had ever produced and both Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr paid tribute.

Cocker's most famous hits included several Beatles covers including With A Little Help From My Friend. His other big sellers included When a Man Loves A Woman, Up Where We Belong and You Can Leave Your Hat On.

Despite battling alcoholism and drug addiction during his early career, Cocker went on to phenomenal creative success and Rolling Stone magazine lists him as one of the 100 greatest singers of all time.

He released more than 20 albums including two gold discs in the US, two platinum ones in Germany and a gold and two silver discs in the UK.

In 1992 Cocker and his wife Pam used some of his estimated £30m career earnings to buy 243 acres of land in Crawford, Colorado and build a little bit of England – a huge gothic-style manor house with seven bedrooms, a kitchen garden, 33ft turret, sweeping staircase, billiard room and a 1,500 sq ft master suite.

The property is now being sold at auction by his widow after it failed to sell at $7 million.

Where Bond will be forever

THERE are many properties linked to Ian Fleming's James Bond books but perhaps the one that goes the deepest is Black Hole Hollow Farm in Vermont, USA.

The property was once owned by Ivar Bryce, a lifelong friend of Fleming's and the man who Fleming drew inspiration from to base the character of Bond's US counterpart Felix Leiter in the books.

But for 007 fans the Bond connections go even further at Black Hole Hollow Farm. Fleming used the property – which is about three and a half hours by car north of New York city – as a quiet retreat to pen two of his most famous books. These were Diamonds Are Forever and Goldfinger and they were both written during the 1950s in the 18th century farmhouse's Yellow Room, which still exists today.

Fleming was not the only famous guest at the house. Ivar Bryce and his wife Josephine were well connected and both Princess Margaret and Jackie Kennedy were entertained at the eight-bedroom historic property, which is now for sale.

It comes with 948 acres of land, 33 miles of walking trails, paddocks, a riding arena, four barns, an outdoor swimming pool, four other smaller houses and an old guest register in which Fleming wrote: 'Lived here like a king – an uninvited one – in fragrant and luxurious solitude'.

The colonial-era property is being sold by Christie's Real Estate (+1 631 680 7557) for just over £3 million.

THERE can be few people who have not been touched by the writing of Roald Dahl at some point in their life.

For most of us it will have been his children's books – perhaps James and the Giant Peach, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory or Fantastic Mr Fox – or more recently the film version of The BFG starring Mark Rylance now playing in cinemas, directed by Steven Spielberg.

This latest success for Dahl, who died in 1990, has helped propel the author to new heights of popularity. His books for both children and adults have now sold 200 million worldwide putting Dahl in the top 50 of the world's most published authors.

This year is also the 100th anniversary of his birth to Norwegian parents in Wales at a house in Landaff, a suburb of Cardiff, called Villa Marie.

His father emigrated from Norway in the 1880s and later brought over his wife, Sophie, and raised a family of one son and three daughters.

The house now sports a blue plaque commemorating the author's birth and upbringing at the property, which was built by Roald's father in 1907.

The 3,300 sq ft property is for sale via local agent Hern & Crabtree (029 2055 5198) for £1.29 million and, as well its rich literary history, includes five bedrooms, four reception rooms, three bathrooms and a sun patio and garden at the rear.

Robo cars 'won't spoil driving fun'

By: Chris Russon

THE arrival of cars that can drive themselves will not mean the end of motoring for pleasure.

That's the view of the man who is tasked with developing the next generation of models for Kia and Hyundai.

Albert Biermann, who helped create BMW's legendary M performance cars, says that the advent of so-called autonomous vehicles will not mean the cars of the future will be all the same.

"Chassis development will not stop because of autonomous cars," said Mr Biermann, who became head of high performance vehicle development for the Korean brands 18 months ago.

Speaking at the companies' top secret research and development facility at Namyang close to the Korean capital Seoul, Mr Biermann echoed the words of Ferdinand Porsche who famously said the last car in the world will be a sports car.

Mr Biermann said that despite the shift towards 'robo cars' there would still be a demand for conventional models with the driver completely in control.

"The key part is enjoying the drive and cars which do that will be around for many years to come," said Mr Biermann.

"They might turn into a hobby but they will survive. There's so much fun driving a car that will not go away."

Since joining Kia and Hyundai – who like all other major car firms are making vehicles safer with automated systems such as lane departure warnings and blind spot monitors – Mr Biermann has set about improving the Korean cars' vehicle dynamics, especially for European conditions.

New test tracks have been opened at Namyang to fine tune the next wave of Kia and Hyundai models to satisfy differing driving tastes.

The facility includes a high speed track and a wet handling circuit to allow test drivers to fine tune suspension and steering characteristics.

Both Kia and Hyundai already have factories in Europe where cars such as the cee'd, Sportage and Tucson are built and tested on European roads.

"The way we are moving forward in Europe is clear on the driving side to make it more safe and fun," said Mr Biermann.

He added that the next generation of cars from the two brands, which include hybrids such as the Kia Niro and the Hyundai Ioniq as well as the sporty-looking new Optima Sportswagon from Kia would feature a 'GT approach'.

Mr Biermann is the second high profile German auto engineer who has been appointed to mastermind Hyundai Kia's development.

He follows former Audi design guru Peter Schreyer who has transformed the way the two companies' cars look since he joined the fast-growing Korean group in 2006.

SUZUKI SWIFT SELLING SWIFTLY BY: CHRIS RUSSON

THE Suzuki Swift has notched up another milestone by passing the five million mark of models sold across the globe. Since it first arrived on the motoring scene 12 years ago the car has become a favourite with supermini fans around the world and more than 118,000 have been sold in Britain. It is now Suzuki's most popular car in the UK and accounts for more than a third of the company's British sales.

In the UK, the Swift is available in three and five door versions and comes with a 1.2-litre petrol engine which emits 116g/km CO2 as well as a Dualjet engine equipped with twin fuel injectors that records 99g/km of CO2 and offers even stronger fuel economy at 65.7mpg.

The Swift is also one of the safest cars in its class with a five star Euro NCAP rating.

The Swift is available in five specification grades, SZ2, SZ3, SZ-L, SZ4 with the 1.2-litre petrol engine and in Sport trim with the 1.6-litre engine.

All models offer seven airbags and ESP as standard, front passenger airbag deactivation facility, electric windows, remote central door locking with deadlocks, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors, an MP3/WMA compatible CD tuner with USB port and steering wheel mounted audio controls.

The Swift can also be specified with four wheel drive which offers added safety during the winter months.

The Swift 4x4 is available as a five-door 1.2 Dualjet petrol model with manual transmission and equipped as either an SZ3 or SZ4 grade.

Featuring lightweight components the Swift 4x4 is just 65kg heavier than an equivalent two-wheel-drive petrol model.

All British models are built at Suzuki's Magyar factory in Hungary.

The current line up is keenly priced and starts from £8,999 for the 1.2 SZ2 model with the range topping out at £14,354 for the 1.6-litre Sport which includes sat nav as standard.

The Swift 4x4 is priced from £14,199.

NEW POLO PROVES MATCH FIT

BY: CHRIS RUSSON

THE Volkswagen Polo has become an everyday feature of life on the road and the latest model is the best yet.

The sixth generation Polo has just been given a shot in the arm with the introduction of Match models which come loaded with kit.

The Match replaces the Polo SE and is available in three and five-door bodystyles priced from £12,960. Standard equipment includes cruise control, front and rear parking sensors, front fog lights with static cornering function, tinted rear windows and 15-inch alloy wheels.

Volkswagen says there is some £900 worth of additional equipment fitted to the Polo Match compared to the SE.

The Polo Match is available with Volkswagen's 1.0 and 1.2-litre petrol engines and the company's economical 1.4-litre diesel which has a claimed fuel return of 78.5mpg and tax free emissions of 93g/km. The diesels are priced from £15,170 for the three-door model and £15,800 for the five door. The 1.2-litre turbo petrol versions of the Polo Match are also available with seven speed DSG automatic gearboxes instead of a five-speed manual box. The DSG models cost from £15,480 and with emissions of 109g/km are rated at 60.1mpg but are the quickest of the Match models with a 0 to 60 acceleration of 10.8 seconds and a top speed of 114mph.

All versions of the Polo match come with air conditioning, a 6.5-inch touchscreen and the onboard software includes Volkswagen's 'Think Blue Trainer' which analyses driving styles and gives tips for achieving optimum economy.

BABY DIESEL FOR BABY INFINITI BY: CHRIS RUSSON

A NEW diesel version of the British-built Infiniti Q30 compact luxury car has been introduced making the model even more economical to run.

Priced from £21,500, the new 1.5-litre Q30 diesel is the most fuel efficient car Infiniti has ever produced.

It's rated at 68.9mpg and with emissions of 108g/km the Q30 1.5d is highly attractive to business drivers with a tax banding of 21 per cent.

The engine is from Infiniti's parent group Nissan-Renault and is tried and tested in other models across the Franco-Japanese automotive alliance.

It's also fitted in the Q30's sister ship, the Mercedes-Benz A-Class.

In the Q30 it develops 109ps and gives the car a 0 to 60 acceleration time of 12.0 seconds with a top speed of 118mph. It's available as a six-speed manual and with the option of a seven-speed dual clutch semi-automatic transmission which costs £1,500 more.

The DCT version is not quite as frugal with an official fuel return of 65.7mpg and a CO2 rating of 111g/km but still outstrips the Q30 2.2-litre diesel which is rated at 64.2mpg.

The new 1.5-litre powertrain is available across the Q30 front-wheel-drive range and tops out at £27,830 in Premium Tech In Touch specification.

Since its launch earlier this year the Q30 has helped Infiniti's sales surge in Britain, doubling to more than 2,000 since January.

The Q30 is Infiniti's smallest model and its first compact luxury crossover. It is made in Sunderland at a special facility created at the Nissan factory where it is produced for all global markets.

SPECIAL SUBARU FORESTER FOR BOXER MILESTONE

By: Stewart Smith

SUBARU is celebrating 50 years of its iconic Boxer engine and has announced the release of Special Editions of its rugged Forester 4x4 for sale in the UK in September.

Just 100 units will be produced and they will be priced at £29,995 for the petrol Lineartronic and £31,495 for the diesel Lineartronic.

The special cars are based on the XC Premium model and they come with £1,500 of additional equipment at no extra cost.

Upgrades for the Forester Special Edition include Hunter Green Metallic Paint, front, side and rear under guards, wheel arch extensions and stainless steel cargo step panel as well as Special Edition brown leather seats with brown leather interior door grips, centre armrest and centre panel uprights.

Other equipment on the specials includes Subaru's Starlink seven-inch touchscreen infotainment, connectivity and navigation system, Hill Descent Control (HDC) and the company's X-Mode system which manages the car's power and torque, brakes and drivetrain to maintain traction on slippery surfaces

INGENIUM POWER FOR RANGE ROVER SPORT By: Stewart Smith

LAND Rover has introduced its most efficient Range Rover Sport ever which goes on sale later this year.

The big-selling Sport 4x4 now features an efficient Ingenium powertrain, upgraded infotainment system with connectivity and Wi-Fi capability, innovative semi-autonomous driving connected technologies and greater scope for personalisation.

Already available on both Discovery Sport and Range Rover Evoque models, Ingenium is Jaguar Land Rover's new breed of diesel engine designed for superior performance, refinement and efficiency.

The Ingenium units are built at the company's new multi-million pound engine plant at Wolverhampton.

Land Rover claims the 2.0-litre Ingenium engine's advanced technology and all-aluminium construction contribute to impressive fuel consumption of 45.6mpg and CO2 emissions 164g/km with a 0-60 acceleration time of 8.0 seconds.

UK buyers will also have the option of specifying Jaguar Land Rover's 3.0-litre V6 supercharged petrol engine in the latest Range Rover Sport.

The supercharged V6 achieves 340bhp and 450Nm of torque combined with emissions of 243g/km. This engine produces acceleration and power delivery of 0-60 in just 7.1 seconds.

Also new for the 2017 model year the Range Rover Sport features an improved All-Terrain Information Centre, which is accessible via the central touchscreen.

The system displays useful information when driving off-road, such as the direction of the front wheels and the status of the Wade Sensing system. This also now includes Drive Assist, which uses the vehicle's surround-view cameras to help with low-speed manoeuvres when off-road.

One of the most significant features of the latest Range Rover Sport is the introduction of InControl Touch Pro, with a large 10-inch central touchscreen display. As a result the infotainment system features smoother controls and a wider range of connectivity options and apps than ever before.

Prices for the new Range Rover Sport will start at £59,700 and on up to £96,900.

The new LE model has been designed by the Italian styling house Giugiaro and sports clear glass direction indicators, a piano black radiator grille and distinctive 18in diamond cut alloy wheels and sidesteps on this new offering.

Gold medals galore for rowers

Winners: Emma Tarshish, Cherry Kemp, Marzena Kotowicz and Lucy Millett won the IM3 Women's Quad

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

MK ROWERS had a Super Saturday and Sunday of their own when they won six golds at the Peterborough Summer Regatta at the weekend.

More than 30 crews arrived from Milton Keynes, showing the strength and depth of the club, with impressive performances resulting in a number of wins and a few near misses.

The first win on the sunny Saturday was the IM3 Quad of Emma Tarshish, Cherry Kemp, Marzena Kotowicz and Lucy Millett. The crew powered past their competition, kept calm and stayed out of danger despite clashes between other racing crews throughout the race. As the City of Cambridge boat tried to make up lost ground the MK crew responded and crossed the line with a clear win.

Only minutes later there was another gold for MK, this time delivered by the impressive Women's Masters E 4+ crew of Louise Rivett, Karen Wilson, Paula Heywood, Helen Smith and their cox Matthew Heggie. The ladies raced confidently to a convincing win over the 1km distance.

Further demonstrating the clubs dominance in Masters events were Rod Bennett and Steve Lawson in the Masters E Pair category, overcoming being hit by a racing crew steering off course as they rowed up to the line.

Sunday was just as super for the MK crews, with the winning Women's Masters E crew from the previous day showing they were just as deadly over a shorter 500m course, coxed by Alice Draper.

Beating the crew in second from Star Rowing Club by a clear distance, the team is well placed to continue its success through the last races of the season.

Helen Marshall and Jenny Searle faced disappointment on the Saturday when they were narrowly beaten into second place over the 1km course. Coming back Sunday they fought hard and turned around their luck to bag the gold in the Women's Masters B Double Sculls over 500m.

The final win of the weekend came from the Mixed IM3 8+ in the last race of the regatta. A powerful crew of Jake Veasey, Jo Heywood, Shaun Turner, Nick Hughes, Aga Zabczyk, James Hughesman, Emma Tarshish and Megan Lloyd-Palmer were expertly coxed by Chris Wilson to win by a clear length.

While the regatta season may be nearing a close, the summer is far from over for MK Rowing Club. Coming up are the exciting events of Rock up and Row on Saturday where anyone can go along and try rowing for free, and the annual MK Regatta on September 17, which having gained British Rowing affiliation this year, promises to be bigger.

You could make a difference to a child or young person's life

Milton Keynes Council is keen to recruit people who can offer a safe and loving home for a child/young person in care. We are especially seeking carers for teenagers. As a Milton Keynes Council foster carer you will be provided with a generous allowance plus support and training.

New Bradwell close in on Four Counties title

A DRAW for New Bradwell helped them keep the pressure up on Four Counties' top two Biddenham and Eaton Bray after they both lost.

New Bradwell are now 10 points off top spot and are level with Eaton Bray after they drew with New City on Saturday.

Milton Keynes did their bit to help New Bradwell out after skittling the league leaders Biddenham out for just 93, with Joe Fairbrother claiming four wickets.

Biddenham came back at MK in the second innings, but with three wickets to spare Milton Keynes got the win as Nimesh Chavda struck 26.

North Crawley defeated Aspley Guise by three wickets, while Olney Town claimed a draw against Thurlough, with Stuart Keeping notching up 49 and opener Marcus Bates 45.

Stony Stratford were bowled out for just 87 in their Northamptonshire Premier League tie against Rushden Town. They were comfortably beaten by 10 wickets.

In the Cherwell Cricket League, Great Brickhill had to forfeit their match against Leighton Buzzard Town, while in Division Two, Wolverton Town lost to Challow and Childrey by 55 runs.

Debut delight as defender heads winner at Rochdale

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

DONS defender Scott Wootton proved himself to be a debut specialist as he scored on his first league appearance for the club against Rochdale at Spotland.

It is the fourth time that Wootton has scored on a debut and the 24-year-old thinks his last minute winner against the Lancashire side was his best of the lot.

"I think it's the fourth time and I can't really explain it!" said Wootton.

"Today tops the lot with it being in the last minute.

"It's such a great feeling but the most important thing is that we leave here with three points.

"It was a tough game and we had to withstand a lot of pressure.

"We had a lot of chances without playing our best football and the way we play will be difficult at times because they want to stop us.

"When you're not playing your best it's important to dig in and the lads were terrific with their character.

"It's not a bad way to do it in the last minute."

Wootton was a part of the Leeds squad that managed to somehow get four points against Dons in two games last season and the team's performances against the Elland Road side helped make up the defender's mind to move to stadiummk.

"The experience I had playing against MK Dons for Leeds meant that as soon as they said they wanted to sign me I wanted to come.

"The stadium and facilities are fantastic and the way they play suits me.

"They battered us twice last year so I knew I was coming to a good team that has a good chance of getting promoted back to the Championship.

"Off the back of the two performances against Leeds I was definitely surprised Dons were relegated because they absolutely battered us twice.

"How we took four points I'll never know and we were very lucky, which we've said afterwards."

Wootton is now glad to be at Dons though and thinks centre back is his best position, with the player also able to play at right back.

"I feel that centre back is probably my best position.

"I've played a lot of games at right back but I grew up playing at centre back. I feel I can play both but if I had to choose I would choose centre back."

Dons were due to play Reading in the second round of the EFL Cup last night.

Their busy schedule continues when they entertain rivals Peterborough United at stadiummk on Saturday in a game that is always feisty. They also play Barnet at home in the Checkatrade Trophy on Tuesday night.

RUGBY LEAGUE

Wolves roar to victory in grand final

MK WOLVES were crowned regional champions after fighting back from a 10-0 half time deficit to win the East Rugby League Division One Grand Final 30-10.

MK had booked their place in their first ever Grand Final after finishing top of their league and met second placed side Southend Spartans in the Play-Off final at Kempston.

Southend started the stronger and 10 minutes in, Wolves' missed tackles saw Southend crash over for their first try of the game.

MK's best attack of the half came from Wolves' winger Kelvin Dwumfuo who found himself open with the ball, but with a rush of blood to the head grounded it 10 metres short of the try line.

Southend quickly took advantage, passing the ball well, to score another to take the score to 10-0 at half time.

In the second half, captain and MK's Player Of The Season Scott Aspinall directed play from fullback and a line break from Callum Moon saw him pass to Stuart Tomkinson, who powered over the line to put MK back in the game.

With renewed confidence, and a flagging opposition, Kai Muroi, Soape Sako, Dave Brown and Wolves' Young Player Of The Year Ryan Eaton also found themselves on the scoresheet for MK, with Aspinall converting four of the five tries.

Late into the game MK won a penalty that was kicked by Aspinall, to make the final score 30-10 to the Wolves, and MK could rightly call themselves the league champions.

First medal in 12 years as Ellis and Langridge celebrate bronze

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

CITY-BASED Marcus Ellis and Chris Langridge have won the first Team GB badminton Olympic medal since 2004.

The world number 22 pair had to pick themselves up after a semi-final defeat to the fourth seeds last Tuesday and they did so in style with a 21-18, 19-21, 21-10 win against Chinese opposition on Thursday.

Langridge and Ellis edged the first set against the world number five pair Chai Biao and Hong Wei and, despite losing a tight second, completely dominated the third to win an historic bronze in Rio.

Langridge said: "We believe we are good and you have to have that self-belief to achieve things.

"We know that most of the time, when we play, the pressure is on our opponents because they are higher ranked.

"We know there is almost no pair in the world that we can't beat and we showed that in this tournament.

"We've had some big results this year but not consistently. We know we can take down the big boys now."

Langridge and Ellis won a tense first game 21-18 and might have been left rueing missed chances after the Chinese took it to a decider, snatching the second game 19-21.

But the British pair won the final game 21-10 after a review into the last point after a Langridge serve, which cranked up the tension with the pair suspecting they were seconds away from a medal.

Ellis added: "We could have easily folded after the second set after being so close to actually taking it.

Podium place: Chris Langridge and Marcus Ellis celebrate their bronze medal in Rio – the first since Gail Emms and Nathan Robertson in 2004 Pic: BadmintonPhoto

"I am very proud of how we came out in the third, we fought our way to a good lead and when we were 7-1, 8-1 up we could really relax.

"It is absolutely massive for the sport. We are not the best in the world but we have come here and performed to our very, very best and I think on the day we can beat anyone and I just hope the guys back home can take inspiration from that going forward."

Rajiv Ouseph could also be proud of his achievements as he reached the quarter finals of the men's singles event.

Meanwhile, Woburn Golf Club professional Charley Hull was two shots off the podium in the first ever golf competition at the Olympics.

South Korean Inbee Park won the women's event.

In the third round, the 20-year-old appeared to blow her chances of a medal after shooting 73, which was two shots over par.

But she came back well on the last day on Sunday and put herself in the mix, although she had too much to do.

Overall she was tied for seventh in the event.
